November 2008

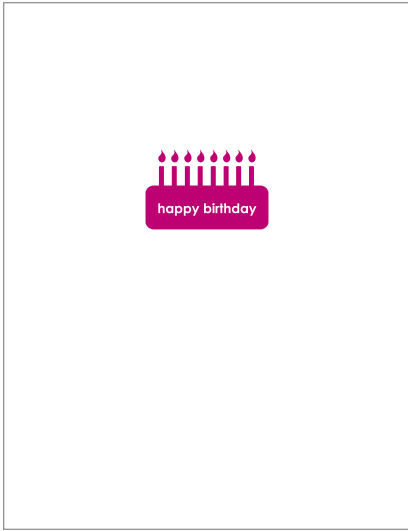

VANDALIA STREET is an odd little rue that skirts the fringe of St Paul's Midway district. It begins in the middle of a freeway overpass and dives down a hill heading north, past a paper plant, a mattress factory, and an Irish pub, then makes a dogleg left at University Avenue. From there it travels past a plumbing supply company, a baseball batting cage, and, in the festive season, a holiday-oriented food shop called "We Are Nuts." There's a little bit of everything on Vandalia Street, a quirky thoroughfare that no one would call beautiful, but which is, to be sure, always interesting.
